LHSAA Hall of Fame—First Nominee

Rear Admiral S. David Griggs

he first alumnus nominated for the LHSAA Hall of Fame is Rear Admiral S. David Griggs, LHS Class of 1957. David was also the first Navel Academy graduate and first astronaut, (USNA 1962) to be nominated and honored on October 17, 2010 in an induction ceremony at the Evergreen Aviation and Space Museum. After earning his wings in 1964, Dave logged 9,500 hours flying time, with 7,800 hours in jet aircraft, and flew over 45 different types of aircraft, including single and multi engine prop, turbo prop and jet aircraft, helicopter, glider, and hot air balloons. He made over 300 carrier landings. He completed one Mediterranean cruise and two Southeast Asia Combat cruises, flying from aircraft carrier USS Independence and USS Roosevelt. In 1967 he completed test pilot training and served as a test pilot. In 1970, he resigned his regular Navy commission and affiliated with the Navel Air Reserve and achieved the rank of Rear Admiral. He was selected as an astronaut candidate in 1978. He began crew training as mission specialist for a forthcoming scheduled flight, which flew April 12-19 1985. During the flight he conducted the first unscheduled extravehicular activity (Space Walk) of the space program. This space walk lasted for over three hours during which time preparation for a satellite rescue attempt was completed. During his career, Dave was awarded the Navy Distinguished Flying Cross, Meritorious Service Medal, 15 Air Medals, 3 Navy Commendation Medals, the NASA Space Flight Medal, and several other combat and achievement awards from the Navy and NASA. Dave was killed in an aircraft accident in 1989, and is survived by his wife, Karen, and two daughters, Alison and Carre. His was a remarkable life, filled with achievement and contributions to his country. It is certainly fitting that he now be recognized by the Lincoln High School Alumni Hall of Fame. ■

The Trek Electric Experience by Amanda Schenberger

When I first found out I was selected for our New Works Festival, I was beyond thrilled. I spent all summer working on my play with a professional playwright and director, Matt Zrebski. It was one of the most enlightening, challenging, and exciting experiences of my life. Not only did I grow as a writer, I grew as a person. But that was just the beginning of this incredible journey.

When I was cast in the show and found out that my play would be going to The Fringe Festival in Scotland and I would be acting in that same festival, my first thought was a series of incomprehensible syllables as my mind imploded and couldn't quite find the words to express how ridiculously excited I was for this amazing opportunity. I have

Book Title: São Tomé, a novel.

Written by Paul D. Cohn

The novel is set against the history of the kidnappings that began in 1485 when the Portuguese Crown and Catholic Church first began to abduct Jewish children, forcibly convert the young conscripts, and ship them to São Tomé Island off the African equator to work on government plantations.

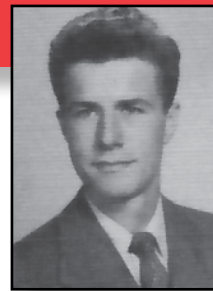

The collision of slavery, sugar agriculture, and discovery of the Americas transformed this island colony into the nidus of the whole-sale black slave trade that infected Western commerce and Africa for the next 350 years. This is a little-known chapter of the Diaspora that also reveals the Medieval Church's complicity in the business of slavery.

Book Title: The Case of the Lambent Lama, third in the Mordecai Maccabee Mystery Series.

Written by Alexandra Schiller ('53)

Alas, poor Madame Wu—strangled to death and no one seems to care! While ferret buddy and gumshoe Morecai Maccabee zip around town in his vintage MG, trying to solve this mystery they have a near-fatal encounter with a worldwide network of antiquities thievery and smuggling. They learn about Tibetan Buddhism while Maccabee's beloved roadster and his girlfriend disappear. The Case of the Lambent Lama is the third story in a series featuring this self-styled detective. Each mystery is set within a different religious environment and challenges those values as the characters deal with murder in their midst.

Book Title: From the Third Base Coach's Box.

Written by Jack Dunn

Lincoln alum

Jack Dunn was Jack Dunn, '47 quoted as saying "Wade Williams was my first real coach. He was a career teacher and coach at Lincoln High School in Portland, Oregon. Several of his players went on to play professionally. Mr. Williams' instructions improved me as a player and greatly enhanced my coaching skills. "Take what I give you, improve on it and pass it on".

This was Wade Williams' charge to me, and another reason I had for writing this book". In From the Third Base Coach's Box, Jack Dunn will teach you how to win more baseball games...conduct fun, efficient practices...build a foundation of solid fundamentals...and out-think your opponent. It is a vault of knowledge from a coach who has spent more than four decades learning the finer points of baseball. A must-have for the coach or player seeking the upper-hand.

Book title: Cannon Beach ~ A Place by the Sea.

Written by Terence O' Donnell

A romantic vista, a favorite getaway, a proud community, and an Oregon jewel all describe the city of Cannon Beach. Author Terence O' Donnell captures the changing yet familiar face of this beloved coastal community in a story that covers 100 years of Cannon Beach history. Clam diggers, mail-carriers with a taste for Dickens, developers, dreamers, and sand-castle-builders all find a home in this city's history. Sumptuously illustrated with over 100 photos, this is a book for anyone who has claimed Cannon Beach as their place by the sea, be it for an afternoon or a lifetime. ■

LHSAA Endowment Fund

Those who receive sometimes give back.

The generosity of our alumni has stretched further than any of us could have imagined when back in 1999 the LHSAA created a venue that would offer Lincoln students support from the greater Lincoln High School community. Guided by the LHS Alumni Association board, we will have by the end of June 2011, awarded over $ 50,000.00 in scholarships and service awards to our Lincoln students. Annually, four scholarships are awarded: $10,000.00 Bertha Hunter Language achievement scholarship, a $100.00 cash award for service to the Senior Class in honor of teacher Marie Allen, a $500.00 award to a prospective student interested in a technology field, and the LHSAA $1500.00 leadership scholarship. This is only the beginning of what we have planned as we grow, and in 2012 we will add the Hathaway Math Award. The LHSAA Endowment Fund is run entirely by a volunteer alumni committee.

We see the future of this project as a challenge that will continue to grow out of the vision that each Lincoln student could be all that they wish to be. A sincere thank you to each and every person who supports these projects. The Endowment Fund provides financial support that can and will enhance learning. A sincere thank you to the LHSAA Endowment Fund Scholarship Committee for 2011 from your LHSAA Board. Chairman Roselyn Taylor, 1964, Susan Craig, 1964, Sally Karo, 1960, and Chris Brown, 1989. They selected four fine young students to receive our scholarships. Join the fund raising drive by donating to the LHSAA Endowment Fund. The address for donations or comments for your LHSAA Endowment Fund is: LHSAA Endowment Fund, P. O. Box 23756, Portland, OR 97281. This piece of writing is by your Endowment Fund Committee. Carolyn Mae Jackson, '55; Ardys Reverman, '56; Chris Brown, '89; Max Lehman, '12; Leslie Costandi, '75; and Harris Matarazzo, '75. ■

SPONSORS NEEDED FOR DRAMA SCHOLARSHIP STUDENTS

Lincoln High School Drama students.

Those families who can afford to pay for their students to go have done so, but there are many students who cannot afford the trip. We have been fundraising as a group on their behalf. We've held auctions, house parties, talent shows, car washes etc. in an attempt to raise funds. We still have a ways to go.

We're hoping that if a few alumni with a passion for the arts, or just a passion for opportunities for students in need, would consider sponsoring a student for $1,000 we could meet our fundraising goals and let these kids have a learning experience they will never forget.

These donations are fully tax deductible. To donate simply send a check made out to Lincoln Drama Department, Lincoln High School 1600 SW Salmon St Portland OR 97205. In the memo line please add Scotland Alumni. ■ an opportunity like this in my life before: the chance to have my work performed at the biggest arts festival in the world... how do you even begin to describe how incredible that is? Acting and writing are my two biggest passions in my life, and to be given the chance to express my passions and to perform on a stage that most actors will never even see...as I said, words can't even describe.

Thank you for your support

But when they mentioned how much money we would have to raise and suggested the amount each family contribute to the trip, my heart immediately sank. My next thought was, "How on Earth am I going to pay for this?" Although many Lincoln students come from well-off families to whom a couple thousand dollars is no issue, this is not the case with mine. Ever since my father was sent to jail last year for the years of silent, secret child abuse he committed in our household, the money problems for my mom, my sister, and I have gotten worse and worse. Because he is incarcerated, not only did we lose his income but we also don't receive any child support from him or his family. My father also left us with all of his debt, so we went bankrupt within a few months of his incarceration. At the time of the bankruptcy, my mother was working two jobs, but since then she has lost one of those and is down to just one. Most months, we have to be late on some of our bills so we have enough money left over to live on. So you can see why a trip to Scotland is entirely out of the question for me. The only money I have been able to contribute to the trip has been earned by a lot of hard fundraising on my part. But it's still not enough, and doesn't even come close to the $6,500 I need to pay for my slot.

But I haven't given up yet. I know it may seem silly to spend all this time and energy working to raise money to go on a trip to Scotland when I have money problems at home to deal with, but this trip means the world to me. When I saw my play performed this spring for the first time on a real stage in front of a real audience, I felt more joy and pride than I have ever felt

A group of Lincoln drama students need the help of those who support the arts and student opportunity.

Every winter Lincoln drama students put on what is called The New Works Festival. This Festival is special because the plays are written by teens, for their peers, about issues that matter to them. The works are fresh, creative, insightful and innovative. Lincoln Theatre Department has enormous confidence in its students, allowing them artistic risks to discover their creative voices. The New Works Festival has gained national attention; there are only a handful of schools across the country that provides students with this unique experience.

Recently, Lincoln was selected as 1 of 48 high schools nationwide by the American High School Theatre Festival (AHSTF) Board of Advisors to represent the United States as part of the 2011 International Festival Fringe in Edinburgh, Scotland. The board reviews applications from schools across the nation, identifying the top high school theatre programs based on their most recent bodies of work, awards, community involvement, philosophies, and recommendations. Not bad for a Portland Public School with limited funds for the arts. This is the largest and most prestigious arts festival in the world. It is an incredible honor for the department and a unique opportunity for our aspiring actors and playwrights.

about anything in my life. It only inspired me to work even harder so I can see it performed on an international stage, which will do so much for both my playwriting career and my acting career. I don't want to let my family's money problems keep me from having this incredible, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. ## LHSAA Memorial Rose Garden won Award!

In June the Lincoln High School Alumni Association received news by letter that our LHSAA Memorial Rose Garden has won The Portland Royal Rosarian Rose Garden Contest for 2011. The Alumni Memorial Garden is located on the LHS Campus on the Eastside of the building just off of 14th and Salmon. The Memorial Rose Garden and the LHS Queen’s Garden were both entered in this years contest.

The garden planted in 2001 in honor of all Lincoln Alumni and Staff is in full bloom and can be viewed all Summer. Alumni, Friends and Family are invited to attend the Awards Ceremony, June 28th, 2011 at 6:30 in the Royal Rosarian Garden at Washington Park. Lincoln will receive a plaque that will be displayed in the garden. A big thank you to all the volunteers who helped with this project.

From the Past...

From the Lincoln High School web page:

COMMUNITY & SCHOOL POPULATION (based on spring 2010 data). Lincoln High School is Portland’s first and oldest high school, one of ten comprehensive high schools in the Portland School District. Lincoln is located in the downtown area within easy walking distance of Portland State University, many museums, cultural events and exhibits. Our school population consists of students from diverse educational and economic backgrounds. The majority of parents are college educated, often with graduate degrees; many are professionals or business executives. A small number of students live in a rural area within the city limits. Lincoln has 10.5% of our students on Free or Reduced Lunch. Approximately 17% of the student population consists of students not residing in the attendance area, but attend Lincoln because of their interest in Lincoln’s International Studies Center and International Baccalaureate programs. The school has an average enrollment of 1421. Student Population: 4.5% African American, 8.6% Asian, 75.1% Caucasian, 6.6% Hispanic, 0.3% Native American, and 2.3% Multiple Ethnicities and 2.7% Unspecified.
